Letters to the editor

"Throw 'em out"

Dear Editor:

In response to your editorial on March 3, 1982: I wholeheartedly agree that a change is needed at City Hall. A desperate change.

Like the editorial says: "Throw the bums out."

Therefore, with one exception, I demand that they resign their positions immediately, so that some good people, some caring people, will do the job that they are not going.

Let's get Carbondale moving; not fighting.

Thank you,

William J. Ruddy

CLIDCO responds

Dear Mr. Baum:

The Board of Directors of CLIDCO wishes to thank you and the Carbondale NEWS for the favorable editorial of March 10th. As you indicate the organization is not new. Few of the founders are alive, nevertheless, CLIDCO is still healthy and strong. It has been quite a few years since CLIDCO sought publicity although there was a time when publicity was an absolute requirement. In more recent years, CLIDCO's success (the Glass Products Inc. and Hendrick Manufacturing Co. participations were the latest) have come about largely because CLIDCO is well known to such leaders as the banks, Lackawanna Industrial Fund Enterprises, SLIBCO, SIDCO, and Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority.

CLIDCO hopes to remain available to do what it can to help Carbondale. We analyze every industrial prospect that comes to our attention. We use our intelligence and our resources to the economic betterment of Carbondale. Your editorial set forth the names of many of the firms we have helped. The high regard and good wishes of the community indicated in your editorial is in itself great satisfaction to this Company.

Sincerely yours,

Robert Martin, Secretary
Carbondale Lackawanna
